

Object: Observation of biological material requires sample preparation or specific analysis conditions

Techniques used: FEG-MEB

Example of head lice and live slow head :

Conclusion :

MEB technique allows to observe biological material especially living creatures.

- ✓ Direct analysis without sample preparation (no chemical preparation in order to fix living cells and no metallization in order to evacuate electronic charges).